Ohio Assembly Acts on Code Revision Bill

11 'Department' Measures Await Senate Consideration

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 104th General Assembly got off to a quiet holiday start Monday in what probably will turn out to be one of the few real jolly days of the session.

The Republicans, as expected—since they had the votes—took over control of both houses after a two-year period of Democratic domination. The GOP has 20 Senate votes to the Democrats' 18; but a whopping 84-55 margin in the House.

On Verge of Record

The legislature appeared today to be on the verge of some sort of record. It is possible the lawmakers will complete passage of their first bill late today—a 705-page emergency measure to correct a multitude of tiny errors and reorganize some sections of the Ohio revised code adopted in 1953.

A special House committee was named on opening day to examine the bulky bill with all its technical changes. The House got the go-ahead signal from the committee late Monday night and was scheduled to pass the measure today in time to give the Senate a chance to follow suit before the legislators end an abbreviated work week.

Department heads working under Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle were on deck, at his long-time urging, with a raft of so-called "department" bills—measures designed to streamline the operations of their offices. Eleven such bills have been delivered to the Senate by Rankin Gibson, the governor's legal aide. Eight others are ready for introduction in the House when the floodgates are opened to bills—probably next week.

Preston Seeks Authority
In one of them, Highway Director Everett S. Preston is seeking authority to enter into interstate agreements for construction of bridges over "bordering streams." In simple language, that means the Ohio River.

By a quirk of land division in the early days of the nation, Ohio owns no part of the Ohio River. At present, the Ohio highway director has only the authority to contract for maintenance of Ohio River bridges. Legislative approval of the present bill would make easier the building of an Ohio River bridge near Marietta to handle traffic on Interstate 77 which, when built, will parallel existing U.S. 21, a highway which eventually will extend from the Cleveland area to Charlotte, N.C.

Selection of Republican officials who will run the affairs of the 104th General Assembly went according to plans previously agreed upon in GOP caucuses. Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, Nelsonville shoe merchant, was elected unanimously to be president pro tempore (majority leader) in the Senate. He has held the post three times in past years and was the Senate minority leader two years ago when the Democrats held the reins.

Mechem is starting his 10th con-

Postmaster Job Declined By Mancuso

Ralph Mancuso, who had been recommended for the Salem postmaster appointment by the Salem Democratic party, announced today that he has declined the offer.

The Democrats are expected to meet again to reconsider their recommendations. Paul Galchick, a barber, and Ray Reasbeck, superintendent of mails at the Post Office, were the Democrats' other two choices for postmaster; it was learned.

Mr. Mancuso is manager of the Aid Budget Co., a loan firm and was clerk of City Council at one time.

The postmastership is expected to be vacant soon after President-elect John F. Kennedy is inaugurated. Acting Postmaster Orvil C. Hoover, a Republican, already has submitted his resignation but it has not been accepted.

Mr. Hoover, former city treasurer, has been acting postmaster since April of 1958. He was named after Lawrence Beardmore died.

SUFFERS BROKEN ANKLE
Miss Carol Mellinger, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Mellinger of 120 E. Friend St., Columbiana, suffered a possible fractured left ankle when she fell in a Lisbon bowling alley Sunday. She is reported in good condition at City Hospital.

NEW YEAR'S BABY — Mrs. William Thomas of 227 W. Spruce St., Lisbon, smiles happily as she holds her infant son, Richard Allen, whose birth at City Hospital at 1:14 a.m. Jan. 1 gave him claim to the title of "First Baby of 1961." Seven and one-half pound Richard Allen has a brother and a sister at home. The father works at the National Rubber Machinery Co. plant in Columbiana.

Tool, Die Co. Expands

Schnell Acquires Gonda Engineering

The Schnell Tool & Die Corp. has acquired the assets of the Gonda Engineering Co., Inc., and will operate it as the Gonda Engineering Division of Schnell Tool & Die.

Announcement of the purchase of the Gonda buildings and equipment on the Georgetown Road was made today by Michael Schnell, president of the Schnell Company. The change was effective Jan. 1.

Operations of the two companies will continue as they have in the past, with John Gonda in charge of the Gonda Division. The latter operates a tool and die shop and a steel stamping and fabricating plant. The corporate structure of the Gonda firm will not be changed, although ownership now belongs to Schnell Tool & Die.

80 Employees at Work
The Schnell firm, which also operates Salem Stamping Co. at the Schnell plant on W. State St., employs 80 persons in its two operations. Gonda employment is not as large.

Michael Schnell is president of Schnell Tool & Die Co. and his son, Charles, is vice president. Mrs. E. M. Falk is secretary-treasurer.

Michael Schnell, who owns a patent on the "deep drawing technique" of making propane gas tank half sections, found his company in August of 1943 and first established headquarters in a garage on Pine St. In 1945, Mr. Schnell and X. Bober formed Salem Stamping Co.

Schnell Tool & Die Co. does automotive work and all other categories of the tool and die trade. Specialty products are made by Salem Stamping.

Mr. Schnell hopes to increase his companies' versatility through acquisition of the Gonda Division.

Belgian Police, Strikers Clash
Demonstrations Held In Principal Cities

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Police and strikers clashed today in the streets of Brussels and in at least two other cities when demonstrators answered a Socialist-led union call for nationwide rallies.

State policemen mounted a saber charge to clear a Brussels square of demonstrators who had shouted insults at them.

They were part of a parade of 9,000 marchers in the capital's main streets.

Twelve civilians were hurt in Antwerp when police waded into a parade of 10,000 strikers who began smashing windows.

The Belgian state radio said tersely that at Tournai state policemen were overwhelmed. The broadcast gave no details of the trouble at Tournai.

Five thousand demonstrated at Liege smashed some store fronts. Miners at that industrial city of the German frontier threatened to flood the mines.

The new demonstrations against Premier Gaston Eyskens' austerity program were timed just ahead of the reopening of Parliament, which will resume debate on the proposals.

The strikers, entering their third week of protest, claim the proposed tax raises and cuts in social services will fall heaviest on the workers.

With the Socialists calling for mass demonstrations in every city of the country, soldiers were on duty at every strategic point. Power plants, railroads and public buildings all had their quota of khaki-uniformed men, determined to prevent sabotage.

Luce Files for City Council Post

Morrison W. Luce of 333 W. 9th St., a candidate for Democratic nomination as Salem councilman-at-large, today was listed by the County Election Board at East Liverpool as one of the first to file officially for the municipal and village primaries May 2.

Also filing were Harry Wilson, a Republican, and Benjamin Ziegler, a Democrat, both for ward council seats in East Liverpool.

The Election Board staff said it expects a rush of filings soon, as Feb. 1 is the deadline for entry of candidates for cities and villages of over 2,000 population.

Rules Changes Demanded as Congress Meets

Dems Blast Hold House Group Has on Proposed Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 87th Congress opens today with Democratic insurgents in both Senate and House demanding changes in the way their business is run.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., had a resolution ready for a Democratic caucus before the noon opening session. The resolution provides for filling all vacancies on the policy and steering committees by direct vote of senators.

The House controversy involved the stranglehold the conservative Rules Committee has on what legislation can be considered by the House.

May Seek Purge

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas Monday agreed that this road block to many liberal measures must be broken down—if necessary by purging Rep. William Colmer, D-Miss., from the committee.

Colmer, who did not support President-elect John F. Kennedy in the campaign, and Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., often have voted with four conservative Republican committee members to block the kind of legislation Kennedy is pledged to support.

It was not at all certain the House Democratic caucus would knock Colmer off the committee, however, or that the entire House would sustain the action if it did.

Mansfield To Be Named

Gore's resolution in the Senate caucus seemed likely to be resisted by Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., who is scheduled to be elected by the caucus as majority leader, succeeding Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. Johnson was expected to resign immediately after being sworn in for a new Senate term, in order to become vice president on Jan. 20.

The policy move crossed the lines of an effort by a group to revise the Senate's anti-filibuster rule. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., was prepared to move at the opening session for the adoption of a new rule to ease the present requirement for approval by two-thirds of those voting before debate can be cut off.

Anderson's proposal would be to permit 60 per cent of the senators to gag a filibuster. Others planned to offer an amendment to let a simple majority accomplish this end.

Gore said he would not support a change in the filibuster rule. Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okl., backed Gore's policy move but said he also will oppose changing the debate limitation requirement.

To Re-Elect Dirksen
Republicans, caucusing to re-elect Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as minority leader and other party leaders, expected to take no party position on the anti-filibuster rule fight.

It was the general understanding the Senate would swear in and re-elect members today and postpone argument on the rule until Wednesday.

Mansfield strove to avoid a lengthy controversy over the anti-filibuster rule that might churn up later opposition to the legislative program of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

He said proponents and oppos-

Atty. Joseph J. Baronzzi, 27, of 411 W. Chestnut St., Lisbon, was appointed assistant prosecutor this morning by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

He will replace J. Warren Bettis who was elected state representative at the November election.

He has been Lisbon village solicitor since Jan. 1, 1960. He also graduated from Ohio Institute of Business at Wooster in 1953; and received his bachelor of science degree from Kent State University in 1956.

Atty. Baronzzi presently is handling the reciprocal support cases in the prosecutor's office. Prosecutor Brokaw said he will not hire anyone to replace Baronzzi at the present time. Atty. Howard M. Cole is the other assistant in Prosecutor Brokaw's office.

Invites Entire Force to Go

Castro Orders Slash Of U.S. Embassy Staff

HAVANA (P)—U.S.-Cuban relations grew more frayed today with a drastic order from Prime Minister Fidel Castro for a slash of the U.S. Embassy staff here to 11 by Wednesday night.

In a wrathful prelude to the U.N. Security Council meeting Wednesday, when Cuba will air new charges that the United States plans to invade Cuba, Castro declared the U.S. Embassy was filled with spies directing counter-revolutionaries.

He said the U.S. staff would be reduced to the same number that Cuba maintains in its embassy in Washington.

Although the prime minister said he was not breaking relations with the United States, he invited the entire staff to leave Cuba.

"We are not breaking with them," he shouted. "If they want to go, let them go."

Thousands of Castro's followers massed in Civic Plaza roared their approval with shouts of "Cuba si, Yankees no" and with demands that the United States give up its naval base at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba.

At the big glass-walled U.S. Embassy, Charge d'Affaires Daniel Braddock got his first word of the order to reduce the staff from 87 to 11 as he watched Castro on television.

Six months ago there were 120 on the staff. U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal was recalled last October and embassy wives and children were sent home last September. Cuba has not had an ambassador in Washington for months.

The embassy said it was awaiting official notification whether Castro's order meant to cut the staff to 11 persons in all or to 11 officials plus secretaries and other non-diplomatic personnel.

The embassy said it will be necessary to reduce its services to the minimum. The visa section was closed today to await instructions from the State Department.

Woman Injured In 2-Car Accident

Mrs. Lillie Wehr, 24, of RD 1, Berlin Center, is in good condition at Salem City Hospital with a possible head injury suffered at 9:55 p.m. Sunday in a two-car accident on Rt. 7, just south of Boardman school.

The State Highway Patrol said Mrs. Wehr was a passenger in a car operated by her husband, Glen Wehr, 38, which was struck in the rear by a car driven by Candido Morales, 36, of Youngstown. The Patrol said the Wehr vehicle had slowed to make a right turn into a private drive when the accident occurred.

In another accident at 4:30 a.m. today, a truck operated by Norman Crawford, 37, of RD 3, Lisbon, went out of control on snow covered Rt. 154, a mile east of Lisbon, left the road, broke off a telephone pole and smashed into a stack of sewer pipe stored in a yard. The driver was not injured.

The sewer pipe is owned by the American Vitriol Products Company. The Patrol said that some 50 to 75 of the 10-inch pipes were broken. Although the telephone pole was broken, the Patrol said phone service in the area was not disrupted.

Crawford was cited for going left of center.

Ike Favors Fast Action on Laos

Meets With Military, Intelligence Advisers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today was reported convinced that fast and clear action is the best way to stop the Communists before they become irretrievably committed to a course of aggression in Laos.

The President was said to be still hopeful, despite the seriousness of the situation in Laos, of a solution short of military intervention by outside powers.

This reasoning was given in connection with the series of U.S. government announcements over the holiday weekend while top officials huddled over reports of Communist advances in Laos.

On Saturday, after word arrived here of what the Laotian government said was an invasion by seven battalions from neighboring Communist North Viet Nam, Eisenhower met with his top diplomatic, military and intelligence advisers.

That afternoon the United States issued a public warning to North Viet Nam, Red China and other Communist powers not to intervene in behalf of the Red Pathet Lao rebels. It also referred pointedly to the U.S. obligation in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization for defense of the area.

On Sunday the United States called for a meeting in Bangkok of the council of SEATO, whose members include the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan.

Monday the Pentagon announced—with White House backing—orders to step up the readiness of U.S. forces in the Pacific, including fast-moving airlift capability, "in view of the present situation in Laos."

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower had approved the move "in light of the SEATO obligations."

He spoke after the President had finished another White House session with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Undersecretary Livingston T. Merchant, Acting Secretary of Defense James H. Douglas, Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Central Intelligence Director Allen W. Dulles.

Ambassadors of SEATO Meet, Take No Action

Some Americans Are Evacuated From Vientiane

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Prince Boun Oum's government announced today that its forces recaptured the key northeastern city of Xiangkhouang from pro-Communist rebels Monday night. Information Minister Bouavang Norasing said the city was retaken by a battalion of paratroopers that jumped 3½ miles east of Xiangkhouang.

Norasing's announcement was the government's first admission that the rebels had taken Xiangkhouang. The minister said Tuesday troops loyal to his pro-Western government were holding out at Ban Ban, 30 miles northeast of Xiangkhouang, and that as far as he knew the key city had not fallen to the rebels who last week seized the strategic Plaine des Jarres, with its cross-country highway, and an airfield outside Xiangkhouang.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman in Bangkok said the United States has evacuated from Vientiane "all American personnel whose activities were restricted" by the crisis. He added that personnel attached to the U.S. Information Service and other agencies are going back to Vientiane in what he described as a "two-way movement."

The spokesman said most of the 200 Americans evacuated from Laos in the past two days were U.S. aid administrators whose activities were hampered by the fighting in central Laos.

Ambassadors of the eight nations forming the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) met in Bangkok, capital of neighboring Thailand, with SEATO Secretary-General Pote Sarasin. The ambassadors, who included U. Alexis Johnson of the United States, took no action.

Sarasin told newsmen SEATO has circumstantial evidence of foreign Communist intervention in the fighting but the Laotian government already had disclosed the evidence he cited—airdrops by Soviet planes to the rebels and two captives the Laotian government said were North Vietnamese troops.

Western observers in Vientiane maintained serious doubts about Laotian charges that as many as 3,000 invaders from Red North Viet Nam have joined the pro-Communist Pathet Lao and leftist rebels in central Laos.

Laos is not a member of SEATO.

Mother Dies; Tot Remains Alone for Days

NEW YORK AP — Three-year-old Patricia McKiernan lay in critical condition in Misericordia Hospital today after a holiday ordeal of horror and starvation.

A Housing Authority patrolman found her Monday in a Bronx apartment, sitting by her mother's body, staring blankly and shivering.

Her mother, Jennie McKiernan, 33, lay on the floor. She had been dead for days of a heart attack.

The child was so emaciated and dehydrated she was unable to walk or talk.

A Christmas tree still sparkled with tinsel in the living room. Under it were Patricia's doll and other toys.

Patrolman James Fortuno took her to a hospital, where she was given clear soup and milk.

Fortuno had gone to the apartment at the request of relatives who knew of Mrs. McKiernan's poor condition and were worried because they had not been able to reach her. Mrs. McKiernan's husband died three years ago and she and Patricia lived on social security payments.

A medical examiner said Mrs. McKiernan had been dead at least five days.

Machinery of Democracy Neglected

Emotions, Not Minds, Pushed United States to Civil War

Editor's Note—Next Sunday Americans begin the commemoration of the great war that rent the Union a century ago. Was this actually an "irrepressible conflict" or a tragedy of errors that could have been avoided? In the first of a four-part series adapted from an address delivered before The Associated Press Managing Editors convention, one of the nation's leading Civil War historians discusses that question and its meaning for Americans today.

By BRUCE CATTON
Written For The Associated Press
It is sometimes said that the Civil War came because the machinery of democracy had broken down. That is not quite true. It came because the machinery of democracy was not used. To see how this happened, go back one century to the presidential election of 1860. An enormous issue disturbed America's democracy in that year. It was not always clear, but in the main it had to do with the existence in America of the institution of chattel slavery. There were of course other issues in that year, but in one way or another they all seemed to revolve around this question of slavery. There was no unanimity of feling, because the institution itself affected different people in such different ways. In the cotton states of the Deep South slavery in 1860 was a going concern, immensely profitable to a small but powerful group, buttressed by all sorts of prejudices and habits of mind; an institution, furthermore, that was so deeply imbedded in the social and economic framework of the cotton South that no one could see how to get rid of it without causing a shattering convulsion. In the more northerly tier of southern states slavery was slowly but visibly withering on the vine. It was still something everyone was adjusted to, and people tended to approach it with their emotions rather than with their minds, but it was not quite the same here as in the Deep South.

Chosen by Kennedy Monday

McCloy Named Chief of U.S. Disarmament Administration

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Republican John J. McCloy, an old hand at dealing with the Soviets, will have a key role in the new Democratic administration's quest for nuclear disarmament.

President-elect John F. Kennedy Monday night announced appointment of McCloy, former Allied high commissioner in Germany, as director of the United States Disarmament Administration. In that field McCloy, 65, will be Kennedy's chief adviser and policy planner.

During the campaign Kennedy sharply criticized the Eisenhower administration for what he called insufficient effort toward working out a disarmament agreement with the Soviet Union. He pledged that if elected he would make "one last great effort." McCloy is a man of wide experience in fields of law, banking and government. He was an assistant secretary of war in the Truman administration and he recently resigned as board chairman of the Chase-Manhattan Bank in New York.

In a statement Kennedy said McCloy's "long interest in the subject of disarmament, his realistic approach to the key issues facing the world today will assure the United States of the ablest leadership in this critical field."

"I cannot think of a subject more deserving of our attention today than that of disarmament, and I am extremely pleased that a man of his capabilities and background has been fit to give this time and energies in this vital area."

The new job McCloy is taking was created by the Eisenhower administration last summer. An organization of about 30 people has been set up, but the top position in the agency never was filled.

"It is intended to be (in the new administration) the central planning agency in the field of disarmament," said Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger.

There is no present plan for McCloy to sit down at the disarmament conference table with Soviet representatives but he will be planning and working on how to deal with them.

Man Shot, Killed In Lorain Tavern

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Pablo Santiago, 43, of Lorain, was shot and killed in a tavern here Monday night.

Police said a gunman calmly walked into the Bar X Tavern, shot Santiago and then fired once into the street and once into the tavern while patrons ducked under tables.

Santiago, father of five and a former steelworker, was shot three times in the chest as he drank wine with friends.

Venancio Colon Lopez, 56, of Lorain, surrendered to police after the shooting. He was holding a revolver. Police said Lopez could give no reason for the shooting. He was held without charge.

Doctor's Wife, 3 Sons Die In Cleveland Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — The wife of a physician and their three young sons perished Monday in a South Euclid fire—the fourth major fire tragedy in Greater Cleveland in less than two months.

Victims of Monday's fire were Mrs. Edith Steffee, 26, and David, 5, Michael, 2, and John, 3 weeks.

Dr. Arthur D. Steffee, 26, head of the family, was on duty at Cleveland Clinic Hospital, where he is an intern.

South Euclid Fire Chief William Fibich said it was the first time in his memory that anyone had died in a fire in the suburb. He said the blaze started in or near a studio couch and smoldered for perhaps two or three hours before it was discovered shortly before 6 a.m. Cause was not determined.

The victims died of smoke inhalation. Fibich said the smoke was sucked into the vents of the heating system, which carried it into each room of the house. There was evidence the mother made a desperate effort to save herself and the children. A telephone receiver was off the hook on her night stand. There also were marks on the wall of her bedroom which she apparently put there trying to grope her way through the smoke. Firemen found Mrs. Steffee and David on the floor of the mother's bedroom on the second floor. Michael was on the floor of another upstairs bedroom near his crib and John was in a baby buggy in the living room downstairs.

FICTION

A SENSE OF VALUES by Sloan Wilson. A novel about a family—a man, his wife, their children, their in-laws. Much of it is everyday living, much of it is of what we hope will not happen to us, but all of it is believable and carries the reader along with almost a sense of urgency to the very last of the 604 pages.

THE LOSER by Peter Ustinov. How a German schoolboy becomes a Nazi, but cannot quite accept all that goes with it when in the war. He falls in love with a prostitute, deserts, earns the enduring hatred of one man, and is finally found by him.

THE DOOMED OASIS by Hammond Innes. A quiet Welsh solicitor goes to the Middle East on business and finds himself plunged into the violence and intrigue of a great struggle for oil. He is in love with the twin sister of a man who is accused of murdering his father, and is also involved in Middle Eastern affairs. Good suspense.

WINDOW IN THE DARK by Frank O'Rourke. A bank robbery in a small town, two Model-A Fords which looked almost exactly alike, two young folks falling in love, plus some derring-do by the crooks make up a folksy sort of adventure-mystery which nevertheless contains some good writing.

THE TRUMPET AND THE ROSE by George C. Appell. California in the days when it still was being claimed by Mexico. The Army when the Cavalry was the most dashing unit - and the most expendable, all of which put together make an exciting Western adventure out of a moment of history.

TOO SWIFT THE TIDE by Salie O'Brien. The Ohio river country in the early 1820's forms the background for a story of love and adventure.

THE MASTERS by C. P. Snow. Not a new novel, but new to this collection, The Masters is another in the Strangers and Brothers sequence, which has been called the most ambitious project in contemporary British literature. The Masters has already come to be recognized as one of the finest studies in politics in Twentieth century fiction.

NON-FICTION

THE SNAKE HAS ALL THE LINES by Jean Kerr. Humorous pieces like those in "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." Such subjects as "Letters of protest I never sent," "A child's garden of manners,"

"The ten worst things about a man" or "How to cope with bad notices" become completely hilarious under her deft handling.

A QUOTA OF SEAWEED by Hamilton Basso. A collection of pieces written for the New Yorker about people and places as diverse as Brazil and Tahiti, Spain and Samoa.

YOUR CHILD'S READING TODAY by Josette Frank. Mrs. Frank is a consultant on children's reading for the Child Study Association of America. She gives advice to parents on such subjects as "Too many things to do," "What is a good book?", "What do children read?", and special kinds of reading.

ROSES IN DECEMBER by Frances Parkinson Keyes. The first volume of the autobiography of the ever-popular novelist.

ASSIGNMENT IN ISRAEL edited by Bernard Mandelbaum. Fourteen experts from various fields discuss Israel's development and its prospects. Aspects of life covered include Religion, Music, The Dance, the Economy, The Army, The Land and the Plastic Arts.

SEA WITHIN, the story of our body fluid, by William D. Snively, Jr. Scientifically accurate yet written in terms which anyone can understand, this little book explains the chemistry of the body fluid.

OUR LIVING SOIL by J. Gordon Cook. What soil contains, how it nourishes plants, the life history of plants are all in this easily understood "Science for Everyman" title.

MASK AND FLIPPERS by Lloyd Bridges. The story of skin-diving ancient Greek sponge divers to the present mass invasion of the underwater world by hundreds of thousands of men, women, and children.

SEVEN MEN AT DAYBREAK by Alan Burgess. The story of seven Czechs who parachuted into Nazi-held Czechoslovakia during World War II in order to kill SS General Reinhard Heydrich. Tense, grim, bloody, well-told.

JENNER R AND THE MIRACLE OF VACCINES by Edward F. Dolan, Jr. The life story of the man who learned to control the disease which was at one time a dreaded scourge in every country - smallpox.

FRANCOIS DE SALES by Michael de la Belyeu. A fresh and well-written life of the great French religious leader of the Sixteenth century. Principal source of information for the biographer was the subject's letters.

MARKET'S REACTION TO 1960 NEWS — Listlessness was characteristic of the stock market during 1960. A gradual decline marked the first quarter. The next three months pointed to an annual record gross national product of 505 billion dollars.

The third quarter slid off the pace, except for a flurry after stock margin requirements were cut from 90 to 70 per cent. Depressing news at home and abroad, see graph above, and a slump in consumer spending were caution signs for business. Good news had only momentary effects. Business was on the downside the last quarter of the year. The words "aid to distressed areas" were heard frequently in the political campaigns; the rolls of the jobless mounted.

Brighter prospects seem in store for 1961. Auto sales are up; steel looks for a spring advance; savings accounts are at a 307 billion peak; consumer demand appears strong and proposed construction of roads, schools and residential building presages a strong year for the building trades, which suffered the worst year since end of World War II.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a widow who has gone with a bachelor for three years. My friend is attractive and charming but he has spent exactly 35 cents on me in all the time we've been dating.

This man is absolutely a genius when it comes to finding free places to go. We seldom eat out and then we split the check — even the tip. We always use my car because he had a chance to get a good price for his and sold it.

His idea of a great evening is a home-cooked meal at my place, a free concert in a park, then back home for a nightcap and TV. I must say he is witty company and treats me nicely but he never talks of marriage and I'm afraid he never will.

I hate aggressive women and don't want to be one. What shall I do? — ALICE.

Dear Alice: A foolish woman is less desirable than an aggressive one. After three years a gal has the right to know what a man's intentions are. This isn't pushy — it's sensible.

How did "The Last of the Big Spenders" get trapped into shell-out that 35 cents? I'll bet he bought some peanuts at the band concert and then discovered you had lost your purse.

On His Feet Again

Dear Ann: I'm a high school senior, male, who is plagued by a mother who can outtalk any living human.

We have a brand new sedan and I can't go near it. We also have a second-hand car which is okay for me to drive but I have to buy gas and oil and keep it in shape — and that's fine. My dad has a good car which he uses for business.

Last week, out of the clear blue sky, my mother decided that anyone who can't support himself shouldn't be driving a car, so all of a sudden I'm a pedestrian. How can I support myself when I'm still in high school? I get good grades and have never been in any trouble.

My dad and I get along fine. He sees my side of it. What can I do? — ON FOOT.

Dear On: "Seeing your side of it" isn't enough. Your dad should intervene in your behalf.

A high school boy should be earning money at a part-time job or by doing chores at home in exchange for his allowance. If you used to buy gas and oil for the second-hand car, where did the money come from?

I suggest both your parents (and you) sit down with a guidance counselor or teacher and set up a workable program. Either I'm getting only part of the story or you're getting the neck of the chicken.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. R. T. HYMAN

'Cat Scratch Fever'

My wife warned me that I'd get in trouble if I did a column on cat scratch fever. "You know how some people are about cats," she said. "You'd better watch your step or you'll get scratched by your readers." She was right.

"I am a member of the American Feline Society and I'm forwarding your article to the president of the society," writes a highly indignant Ken tuckian. "Why do you attack cats? There's bird fever and dogs Dr. R. T. Hyman that bite children and adults. From the daily papers they do more harm than cat scratch."

"I doubt if you have as many friends as cats have," the letter continues. "And wonder if your picture would rate a thousand dollars (as did the picture of a prize kitten, stapled to the letter)."

"It seems to me from your article that because cats are popular and being cared for a little more you want to write something adverse about them. When you attack cats, you are attacking many people. There is a lot of cat food sold."

"I have played with cats since I was a baby . . . and had some scratches . . . but never an infection. My husband often lets his special pet cat scratch his leg and knee . . . but the scratches never become infected. We do not believe that a cat's claw carries any disease or we would have been dead long ago and many other cat lovers I know would have passed on . . . The automobile is a killer. Maybe you should get rid of it!"

FORTUNATELY FOR my peace of mind, here's an excerpt from another letter that came in the same mail:

"How can we ever thank you for calling cat scratch fever to our attention?" writes an Iowa housewife.

"Our 6-year-old daughter developed a swollen gland in her groin. When our doctor said she'd have to go to the hospital to have it drained, I told him we had kittens that our children played with constantly."

"He promised to have some sort of examination made at the time of operation because someone at the university had become very much interested in the disease."

"Yesterday, he told us that the tests were positive and our little girl did have cat scratch fever."

"So we asked him to examine our 3-year-old who has an ugly looking scratch mark on his thigh and he found that the gland in the groin on the side of the scratch was larger and sorer to the touch than the gland on the other side."

"He said he couldn't be sure it would come to the same thing as sister's but he said he wanted to keep an eye on it."

"MY HUSBAND and I decided we didn't want to wait for an answer so he just went out to get rid of the kittens. And he told me to be sure and write you before he came back and thank you for warning us."

So there you have both sides. Cats have their devoted friends. And children have parents.

Elephants do not drink through their trunks. They suck water up into their trunks and then squirt it into their mouths.

Experiment In Super-Trained Minds

John F. Kennedy's appointments have left no room for doubt.

He is going to conduct an experiment in the effect of super-trained minds on public problems.

Other chief executives have had brain trusts, "kitchen cabinets" and special advisers, but President-elect Kennedy will have his entire executive organization manned by men of intellect.

Even his outright political appointments—the payoff jobs, like the choice of Arthur Goldberg to run the Department of Labor—reflect this policy. Mr. Goldberg has earned the reputation of being the head intellectual in unionism.

They are saying in Washington, apropos of the President-elect's fondness for Harvard men, that there may be nothing left of Harvard but Radcliffe when he gets through taking his pick from fellow alumni.

It is interesting, it is significant, it is hopeful—and it raises a question that never has been answered.

WILL AMERICANS ever put their confidence in super-trained minds?

This has been more often than not a nation committed to anti-intellectualism. Except for the intellectualism of the Founding Fathers, which was hateful to the Tories in the United States has relied on practical men, as opposed to men of intellect.

As recently as the Roosevelt era, it still was popular to say that men of intellect, unless they also had been part of the business world, could not be trusted in government because they never had met a payroll.

Throughout the country's history, its chief executives have surrounded themselves with men who believed as they did, regardless of intellectual attainment. It is not accidental that some of the men who will surround Mr. Kennedy are imbued with only one belief—that all public problems should be solved by a process of scientific inquiry and pure reason. They are not Democrats and Republicans so much as they are exponents of the application of human intellect to human problems.

If Mr. Kennedy, an intellectual himself, can fit them into an executive organization and apply their intelligence to public problems it will be a noteworthy development in the evolution of government.

THE IDEA will have to be sold to Democratic majorities in the House and Senate whose members are not sympathetic to the scientific method of government.

It will have to be sold to enough Republican representatives and senators to make up for the Democrats who will reject every proposal and scuttle every policy that threatens their time-honored prejudices and hatreds.

The very youth of the Kennedy appointees will be an affront to the type of legislator who glories in the passage of years that presumably have left some residue of wisdom behind.

It will be an experiment. Like all experiments, it will draw scoffers and skeptics. There will be jokes about it—kindly jokes at first, barbed jokes later on if it turns out that Harvard and Yale aren't saving America any faster than it was saved in the past by gnarled and half-educated graduates of the College of Hard Knocks.

Something Wrong With the Picture

Estimates of automotive tax yield in the '60s are reflecting the lower original costs and operating expenses of compact cars.

United States Bureau of Roads thinks as much as $20 billion worth of gasoline may be saved in the next 10 years by the higher gasoline mileage built into smaller, more efficient automobiles. The federal government will lose its share of taxation on this; the states will lose their share too.

Sun Oil Co. guesses that a third of a billion dollars will be lost to the states and federal government during 1961 alone. Federal revenue and state revenue already have felt the effect of smaller excise taxes collected on the lower prices of compacts.

But there is something wrong with a picture that makes more efficient automotive transportation look like a net loss—even a net loss to special funds earmarked for highway construction and maintenance. That isn't the way efficiency works.

More two-car families are being made possible by more efficient automobiles. Sales research experts now are beginning to talk about three-car families.

It is probable, moreover, that the continuing trend toward suburban living will add enormous increases in mileage to the use of passenger automobiles and that better highways will bring about further increases in the use of trucks.

The automobile era did not get under way until light, economical cars were produced. They were the precursors of today's compacts—Ford's Model T and Model A, the Chevrolet, the Plymouth. They put the country on wheels at prices it could afford to pay.

The popularity of the new compacts is a repetition. Any point of view that makes smaller, more efficient automobiles look like a cloud hanging over tax prospects is a distortion of the picture. In America, efficiency is king, even if it threatens to cut down tax revenue temporarily.

Everybody Watching Stephen Kennedy

New York City's police commissioner, Stephen P. Kennedy, has begun to loom 10 feet high in the news because it is plain that here is a public official doing what every taxpayer is advised never to try.

Commissioner Kennedy is fighting City Hall. He is fighting not only the literal City Hall, in the sense of being at odds with the politicians who run New York City. He is fighting in the figurative sense, too. He has shown willingness to take on separately or massed all the pressure blocs that push and squeeze compliant officials in every big city.

The only thing that has saved his skin is his record as possibly the most competent all-around police commissioner New York City could expect to find—a professional policeman who knows his job inside out, who knows all there is to know about policemen and who has a fierce pride in the police profession.

If the snipers can bring down Commissioner Kennedy, there may never be another target like him. No other policeman may ever aspire to sit in the commissioner's office in the nation's largest city. It might be the death knell for the Kennedy approach to public service, which holds that no public official can afford to compromise with his conscience lest he become the puppet of all who would like to sway his decisions.

Commissioner Kennedy's latest brush is with the New York Supreme Court, which has ruled that he disobeyed an order. This is "City Hall" with a vengeance. He is fighting not only the administrators but the jurists to get his job done. No wonder everybody's watching Stephen P. Kennedy, who wants to give New York City a completely efficient police department.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mr. X was on the open road returning by auto from New Year's services. He rarely missed church and had been especially faithful in attendance all through Yuletide. He seemed awake during the sermons on good will and brotherhood.

But now, leaving the church parking area, he flashed an angry look at a fellow churchgoer who didn't give him satisfactory priority. Going down the street he tooted fiercely at people not in a feverish hurry and gave them a rough stare.

At the first street intersection, an auto failed to make way and he yelled "Whaddaya want, the whole earth?"

(During the church service he had noted the biblical, "Love thy neighbor as thyself" and "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," but these Commandments held no place when it meant a second's delay in getting where he poins.)

Next he passed a sign, "Slow Down, Children At Play," almost hit a child sliding across on a sled and snarled, "How careless can kids get?"

There seemed to be no thought in his mind now of the Infant in the Manger, all the messages of Yuletide and "Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me." Certainly the Commandment "Thou Shalt Not Kill" hadn't sunk in very far.

Mr. X reached home still irascible. He didn't realize that he had qualified as a Man Brushing Off the Sermons, Symbols and the Spirit of Yuletide With Exceeding Swiftly. He wasn't alone. His company was legion.

IDEA STRONGLY HELD by musical show producers that comedians are unimportant and laughs are illegal has been socked by

"Do Ri Me," a show that goes all out for rollicking fun. For a decade and more the belief that a hit musical called for at least one top comedian has been almost abandoned. The producer's traditional, "Where are your belly laughs?" has been little head. In this musical you get bounce, belly laughs and all around entertainment. (But will it be fought as unconstitutional?)

John L. Dogan, who died the other day, was like Dogan, brother of one of the greatest of all time sports cartoonists, "Tad," and for years with Madison Square Garden, beginning as press man for Tex Rickard, (Who, by the way, remembers "Tad's" great characters, Judge Runhauser, Feedinck, the Daffydills and the Hot Dog characters that made every cartoon a howl?)

Ted Williams has signed as sports promoter for Sears-Roebuck. He should fill the catalogue with hits. . . Leo Durocher will do an air-wave baseball commentary this summer, which should be okay unless his targets demand equal time.

How about changing the U.N. committee name to the INSECURITY COUNCIL?

A Connecticut man has bought an ancient railroad caboose and had it installed on his grounds, partly to store antiques and partly for recreation and fun. It has a pot-belly stove and a cupola with two seats that mark old-time cabooses. We envy him. A caboose is the best part of a train. It is the picturesque and exciting end. It doesn't care where it's going but only to see where it's been. It has character, color, tradition and nostalgic memories. It puts on no airs. A house is only a dwelling but a caboose is a caboose, even when no longer on the rails.

Kennedy Bills 'Expensive'

By PETER EDSON

The five-point, top priority legislative program called for by President-elect Kennedy and his congressional leaders could cost the country several billions of dollars. This won't be included in the 1961 budget President Eisenhower sends to the Capitol before he leaves the White House.

There is no assurance this program will sail through Congress in the first 90 days of the new administration, as Kennedy promised in an early campaign speech. These measures ran into plenty of trouble in the last Congress.

The program includes more medical care for the aged within the social security system and increase of minimum wages. These two items won't raise federal taxes, but they will be paid for directly by employers and employees in higher payrolls and payroll deductions.

The other three items could cost the government plenty. They are federal aid to education, housing, and depressed areas.

THE SENATE IN 1959 passed a 390-million-dollar bill for aid to areas with chronic high unemployment. In 1960 the House cut this to 200 million in low interest loans and 50 million dollars in grants to help build plants and attract new industries to the depressed areas. Senate accepted House cuts.

President Eisenhower had proposed a 50-million-dollar program for the same purposes. In vetoing the congressional bill, he charged it would squander taxpayers' money. The Senate failed to override the veto and so the measure died. Now it's revived.

On housing, the Senate passed a 1½ billion-dollar omnibus bill last June. The House refused to accept it, but in the final days of the special session a stopgap bill was agreed to, and the President signed it.

The Democratic platform now sets a goal of two million new housing units constructed every year. In recent years the average has been a little over the million mark. Doubling the construction rate might run up federal housing appropriations from 500 million to one billion dollars a year.

ON AID TO EDUCATION, the Senate passed a 1.8 billion dollar school construction bill early in 1960. The House cut this to 1.3 billion—325 million a year for four years—to be matched by state and local funds. Final passage was doomed, however, by an amendment which would have barred funds to school districts not in compliance with federal court orders to desegregate.

President Eisenhower's own program for aid to education was 70 million dollars a year for 30 years in grants the states to help pay off local school bond issues.

By contrast with this, the Democratic platform calls for "generous federal financial support" in the form of grants to the states for school construction, teachers' salaries and college facilities. More vocational and adult education aids are also promised and a Youth Conservation Corps is also called for.

No price tag has been put on such a program, but it has been estimated as at least a billion dollars a year.

On medical care for the aged, both Senate and House in the last Congress rejected the Kennedy program for a health insurance plan under the Social Security system.

In its place Congress provided for limited medical care to the needy aged through federal subsidies estimated at 325 million dollars a year. This would be paid as grants to the states, who would then pay the "vendors" of medical assistance.

ON RAISING THE MINIMUM wage, the last Senate passed a Kennedy-sponsored bill increasing it from $1 to $1.25 an hour. It would have applied to four million more workers, but exempted 900,000 hotel and restaurant employees.

The House cut this to $1.15 an hour, increasing the minimum for 1.4 million workers, but exempting 14 million of the 24 million workers now covered. Conferees couldn't agree, so the measure died at the end of the session.

The Democratic platform now promises to raise the minimum to $1.25 an hour, making it cover all workers in interstate commerce and industry as well as two million wage earners who work on farms. Additional wage and social security benefits also are promised for migrant workers, lowest paid in America.

Mr. Dawson Declines

By RAYMOND MOLEY

It would be interesting to know what southern citizens are now thinking—citizens who switched from Nixon to Kennedy because Henry Cabot Lodge made the unauthorized promise to name a Negro to the Cabinet. For President-elect Kennedy offered the postmaster generalship to Rep. William L. Dawson who, after this great honor was conferred, declined with thanks.

Dawson is the high imperial ruler of a Chicago South Side District. His empire includes the Chicago Loop and runs south and somewhat west of that business center.

Its population is something under 400,000. It comprises the First Ward, which was in earlier times bossed by the notorious "Hinky Dink" McKenna and "Bathhouse John" Coughlin.

IN THOSE DAYS the area was famous for graft, crime and fraudulent voting. Over the years, emigrants from the southern states have almost completely taken it over. Dawson was born in Albany, Ga., 74 years ago. He has been in Congress since 1942 and is House chairman of the powerful Government Operations Committee. In "Who's Who" he lists his appointment as vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Dawson's control of a huge, solid bloc of Democratic votes gives him great power in the Chicago machine of mayor and boss, Richard J. Daley. After vainly struggling with the bosses, two-term Mayor Martin H. Kennelly, a good public official, was denied another term and was succeeded by Daley. Dawson was a main factor in driving out Kennelly.

Dawson's empire has a grimy reputation in Chicago. It has been the scene of lost votes, of election irregularities and of police corruption. It has been investigated over and over for lawlessness.

The boss of this district is the man who was offered a Cabinet office. Presumably this was in recognition of the vast Kennedy vote which his district produced.

Rusk's Words Recalled

By DAVID LAWRENCE

New Secretary of State Blasted Red Chinese

Nikita Khrushchev is telling the world over the air waves that he's against colonialism. He's boasting about his support of the United Nations resolution, adopted a few days ago, which proclaims the necessity of bringing to a speedy and unconditional end colonialism in all its forms and manifestations.

Oddly enough, the Soviet premier never says a word about the colonialism imposed by Moscow behind the Iron Curtain. He piously declares: "If the colonial powers cast aside the U.N. resolution and continue to obstruct the liberation of subjugated peoples and oppose their independence, then these peoples will be left with only one choice—that of carrying out a decisive struggle to sweep away all obstacles put in their path. And they will not be alone in that struggle."

Mr. Khrushchev's argument against colonialism is transparently hypocritical, but what is surprising is that spokesmen for the free world do not seem to take him up vigorously on the issue.

Even in the United Nations, there seems to be inertia among Western diplomats when it comes to delivering attacks on the colonialism of the Soviet Union.

MAYBE IT'S TIME for these same Western diplomats and representatives in the U.N. to read over a speech delivered on May 13, 1951, by Dean Rusk, who was at that time assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs and who now has been designated by President-elect Kennedy to be the new secretary of state. Mr. Rusk said in part:

"The freedoms of the Chinese people are disappearing. Trial by mob mass slaughter, banishment as forced labor to Manchuria, Siberia or Sinkiang, the arbitrary seizure of property, the destruction of loyalties within the family, the suppression of free speech—these are the facts behind the parades and celebrations and the empty promises. . . .

"We can tell our friends in China that the United States will not acquiesce in the degradation which is being forced upon them."

"We do not recognize the authorities in Peking for what they pretend to be. The Peiping regime may be a colonial Russian government—a Slavic Manchukuo on a larger scale. It is not the government of China. It does not pass the first test. It is not Chinese."

"It is not entitled to speak for China in the community of nations. It is entitled only to the fruits of its own conduct—the fruits of aggression upon which it is now willfully, openly and senselessly embarked."

"We recognize the national government of the Republic of China, even though the territory under its control is severely restricted. We believe it more authentically represents the views of the great body of the people of China, particularly their historic demand for independence from foreign control."

"That government will continue to receive important aid and assistance from the United States. Under the circumstance, however, such aid in itself cannot be decisive to the future of China. The decision and the effort are for the Chinese people, pooling their efforts, wherever they are, in behalf of China."

DEAN RUSK'S words are just as valid today as they were nearly 10 years ago when he delivered them in a prepared speech before the China Institute in America. Lately there have been all sorts of speculation as to a possible change in the United States policy toward Red China.

It has been argued naively that Red China is a "fact" and that control of the mainland must be accepted as a basis for the Peiping government's admission to the United Nations.

This argument is made largely by appeasers but also to some extent by misguided people who think that the end justifies the means—they are willing to try to appease Moscow and Peiping and hope to get some minor concessions as the price of admission of Red China to the U.N.

On the television a few nights ago, Arthur Schlesinger Jr., one of the President-elect's principal advisers, said that admission of Red China to the U.N. is a "reasonable price" to pay for a disarmament agreement with the Soviet Union and Red China. This is the beginning of a new series of arguments designed to make Americans believe that the word of the Chinese Communists and the word of the Russian Communists can be trusted in any disarmament agreement.

Unfortunately, risks of this kind have been taken before and have ended in disaster. This time a nuclear catastrophe could result, which would be far worse in its consequences than any diplomatic mistake made in the past.

THIS IS WHY many Americans, including Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill. and Sen. Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., are active in the fight as members of "the committee of one million" against the admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

The committee is currently giving wide distribution to Dean Rusk's speech of 1951 in the face of some hints from other Kennedy advisers that the time may have arrived for a "deal" with Red China.

It is strange how often the idealists who profess to be liberals will succumb to the temptations of Communist diplomacy, which promises everything but rarely honors any of its oral or written agreements.

So They Say

We can and will have a general tax cut if we can secure an understanding by the majority of our taxpayers and voters that such a tax cut will come only after we have determined to practice sound economy in operations.—Treasury Undersecretary Fred C. Scribner Jr.

For years we have left South America drift while we played Russian roulette with countries like Egypt.—Sen. Vance Hartke (D. Ind.).

I make a picture now and then, but it's harder and harder to fit me in a role. I'm too old to get the girl and too young to play the grandpappy.—Bing Crosby.

Matter of Fact

People have wished for eyes in the back of their heads to see behind them. A sardine-like fish of Central America has that extra set of eyes. It swims just under the water with two eyes peering out—the lookout for tasty insects. His extra pair remains under water. Their purpose? To see nothing eats him while he hunts his own meal.

"Gardy-loo," the housewife called, and if you didn't step lively you got a bucket of dirty water in your face. Housewives of 18th century Edinburgh had no sinks so they threw their wash water out the window into the street. Their colorful warning cry originally was a French phrase, gare l'eau (watch out for the water), later corrupted to gare de l'eau—shortened by the thrifty Scotch to "gardy-loo."

In 1731, Robert Jenkins' ship was boarded by Spanish sailors and one of them cut off Jenkins' ear. But his complaints to the King of England stirred up no action. Seven years later relations between Spain and England were strained and a reputation of Jenkins' story in the House of Commons was a contributory cause of war between the two nations.

Why did the Roman Empire hold together so long? The answer in part lies in the amazing discipline of her soldiers. The toughest veterans weren't excused from daily repetition of what they'd completely learned. In realistic war games, soldiers carried double-weighted arms, to make regular weapons seem light.

The strike went on much as it has during the past weeks, with only part of the labor force heeding the Socialist call. Slightly less than half of the country's trade union membership is enrolled in the Socialist unions; the rest belong to Catholic unions who oppose the strike and call it a revolutionary attempt to overthrow Eyskens' Catholic-Conservative coalition.

$26,000 Collected In Yule Seal Sale

A total of $26,000 has been collected in the Columbiana County Public Health League's Christmas seal sale.

This is approximately 78 per cent of the $33,000 goal. Several townships are nearing their goal but none has gone over the top.

Collections follow by townships with the goals in parenthesis: Butler-Knox $972.71 ($1,000); Center $1,846.75 ($2,400); Elk run $176.50 ($200); Fairfield $2,759.57 ($3,300); Franklin-Wayne $135.30 ($200); Hanover $589.06 ($650); Liverpool-St. Clair $6,977.01 ($9,225).

Congress

nents of an immediate change in the rules should have reasonable time to debate it. But he added "I would like to see the matter decided this week."

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said he thinks those seeking to change the debate rule are making a mistake.

"A prolonged fight over this would leave its impact on the Kennedy program," Sparkman said. "I think we ought to get going on that program."

Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., agreed. He said he and other Southern Democrats "want to go along with the new president's program, if we can in good conscience."

As majority leader, Mansfield would be in a position to halt the debate by moving to table (kill) the Anderson resolution and amendments offered to it.

Involved in the controversy is the contention of rule change backers that the Senate must adopt a new set of rules at the beginning of each Congress. Despite support of this view by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Senate several times has refused to approve this contention.

The effort to elect policy committee members instead of having them appointed by the majority leader also has been defeated in the past.

CALENDAR REFORM — Proponents of a world calendar are pressing their claim that a scientifically designed, standardized calendar would be a boon to humanity. They point out that Jan. 1, 1967, would be good date to dovetail proposed calendar, above, and present calendar, below. Changes are slight — only seven dates out of 365 1/4 days: February gains two new dates — 29 and 30; March loses 31st. April gains a 31st, May loses 31st. August loses 31st. December 31st is changed to December 30 — World's Day, a world holiday. Leap year day is another world holiday, dated June 30.

Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Youngstown.

secutive term in the Senate. He was nominated by Sen. William Daddens, R-Hamilton, himself now starting his 25th year as a legislator.

The top House post of speaker went to Rep. Roger Cloud, Logan County Republican, who has been in that spot twice before—in the 1955 and 1957 legislatures. Cloud, a farmer - contractor, was GOP House minority leader in the 1959 legislature.

House majority leader will be Rep. Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati. He is the son of the late "Mr. Republican"—U.S. Sen Robert A. Taft—who took over exactly the same post in the Ohio House a quarter-century ago.

Sen. Frank W. King, D-Lucas, took over the minority leader spot in the narrowly divided Senate where, two years ago, he was president pro tempore. In the House, James A. Lantz, D-Fairfield, the 1959 speaker, became minority leader.

Take Office Oaths
All the House and Senate members—and the officers of the two houses—took their oaths of office from Ohio Supreme Court Judge Kingsley A. Taft.

Thomas E. Bateman, who almost has become "Mr. Ohio Senate" because of his long service as Senate clerk, took his job back again in the course of the day. He has had one of his rare two-year layoffs from Senate duties since the Democrats took over the legislature in 1959. His salary was increased from the going rate of $12,000 to $14,000. Two senators voted against him as clerk because of the salary increase—Republican Ross Pepple of Lima and Democrat Ed Witmer of Canton. . . . And a trio of real rarities.

Joseph W. Bartunek of Cleveland, former long-time Senate minority leader, served as Senate clerk for the last two years. Last November he was re-elected a Senate member. So, on the opening day of the 1961 session, the Senate clerk voted—for perhaps the first time in history—when he voted for Sen. Mechem as majority leader. . . . And Bartunek voted from the clerk's desk for the simple reason that he had been sworn in as senator and Bateman had not yet been sworn in as clerk.

When the Senate was sworn in contrary to custom, 14 senators kept their seats. That's the first time it ever has happened. The explanation is simple: The 14—five Republicans and nine Democrats—were starting the second half of four-year terms. The first four-year terms were effective in 1959. One senator who was sworn in for a two-year term had the unique distinction of having his picture on the wall of the Senate chamber. The reason: The walls are lined with portraits of former lieutenant governors. The new two-year-term senator is John W. Brown of Medina, former two-term lieutenant governor, former interim governor for an 11-day term and a House member in the 1959-60 session.

Safe-Crackers Get $3,000 In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—The watchman at Luccioni's Italian Restaurant, 4213 Euclid Ave., was overpowered Monday night by four masked safe-crackers who escaped with an estimated $3,000 cash from a safe in the basement.

Police said the safe, believed to have contained New Year's Eve receipts, was pried open.

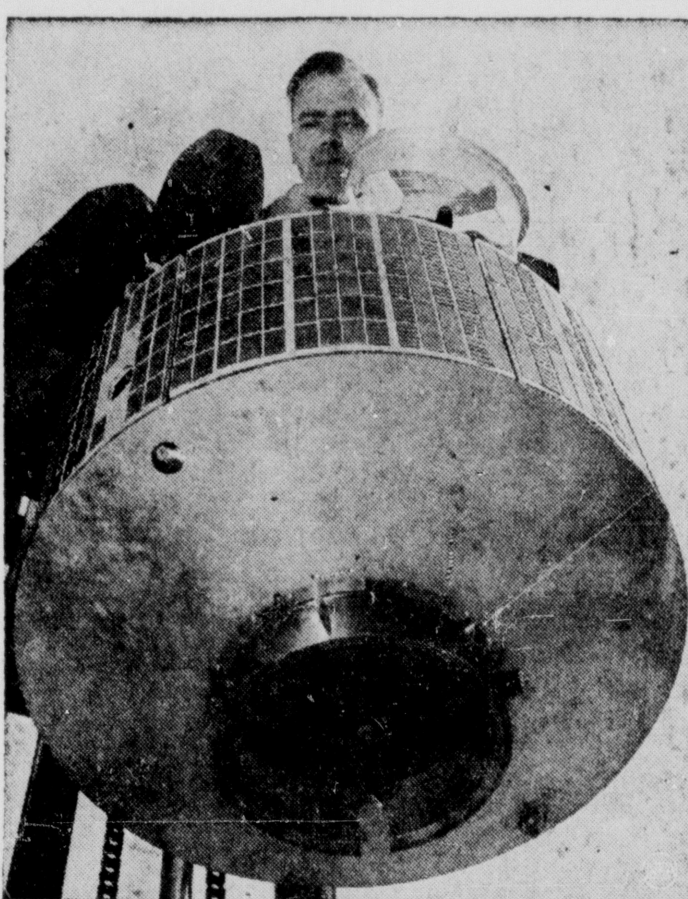

The watchman, Pasquale Minetti, 60, was treated for a head cut. Police said he apparently was struck with his own blackjack.

The robbers, armed with revolvers, bound Minetti's hands and feet with tablecloths before they escaped.

Police said the yeggs got into the restaurant by drilling a line of holes in the bottom part of a door which was bolted shut at the rear of the building. This enabled them to kick out part of the door so they could crawl in.

MEETING POSTPONED

The Ruth Circle of the First Friends Church has postponed its meeting scheduled for Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Raymond Roher.

PRIVATE SATELLITE — An engineer checks the innards of the first communications satellite designed for use by private businesses. Built by Hughes Aircraft Co. it is capable of handling hundreds of telephone circuits and direct TV transmission. If placed in a 22,000-mile-high orbit above the equator, its speed would match the earth's rotation and the satellite would appear stationary from the ground. In that position it could relay communications between most of North and South America, western Europe and western Africa. Its small size and weight—29 inches and 32 pounds—enables it to be launched by a small rocket. Dark rectangles are solar cells, 2,700 of them, to provide power.

New Techniques for Teaching

By JOHN W. GARDENER
President of Carnegie Corporation
(From President's Commission on National Goals)

In seeking the most effective ways of accomplishing our educational purposes, we are going to have to take an experimental view of established practices.

A few examples will suffice:

1. THE SELF - CONTAINED CLASSROOM — The elementary school has been saddled with an inflexible tradition of the self-contained classroom in which one teacher stays with the same 25 to 30 children all day and teaches every subject. It cannot survive the requirements of modern education.

2. DIVISION INTO GRADES — Some of the more advanced experiments in elementary education have partly or wholly abolished the division into grade - years. One school has done away with the first three grades, divides the children into nine ability groups and allows them to proceed at the pace that suits their capacities.

3. UTILIZATION OF BUILDINGS — Most school and college buildings stand unused after 4 p.m. weekdays, all day Saturday and through the summer.

4. SUMMER SCHOOL — The summer session provides an important opportunity to supplement the school program—for students who wish to take remedial work, for students who want advanced courses and for courses students may not have time for in regular session. By 1970 all but the smallest unified school districts should operate voluntary tuition-free summer sessions. Every college and university should hold a summer session.

5. TELEVISION — The educational use of television holds great promise. One of the challenges facing education in the 1960s is to learn to use it well. By 1970 every school should be equipped for instruction by television.

In the 1960s, government and education must undertake a reappraisal of the public service obligations of commercial broadcasters and of the availability of channels for educational purposes.

6. "TEACHING MACHINES" — Another innovation that seems certain to have an impressive impact on the teaching process is what has misleadingly been called the "teaching machine"—and might better be called a self-teaching device.

The best self-teaching devices and programs have proven remarkably effective. Students seem to enjoy working with them. Widely used, they can remove a load from overburdened teachers and give each student the luxury of a private tutor who proceeds at a pace determined by the student. This frees the teacher to spend more time on creative aspects of his job.

7. TEACHERS' AIDES — Schools should continue to experiment with differentiation of professional roles. The use of teachers' aides to carry out routine tasks is promising. So is the suggestion that the rank of Master Teacher be established for individuals at the highest levels of ability, training and experience.

8. VOCATIONAL COURSES — High school vocational programs should be revised. Too often young people who will be exercising their skills in the 1970s are being prepared for the technology of the 1950s.

Most students will go through occupational lives characterized by constant learning of new skills. Vocational programs, therefore, should emphasize fundamental skills and fundamental ways of approaching problems.

9. SCHOOL BOARDS — High on the list of goals for any community seriously interested in its schools is to devise a system for selection of board members that will insure the recruitment of able citizens and which keeps patronage at a minimum.

10. SCHOOL DISTRICTS — The

Castro spoke on the second anniversary of his revolution after staging the biggest military show in Cuban history in the plaza. For seven hours he reviewed soldiers and militiamen showing off weapons from the Soviet bloc, including 54 heavy tanks, 155mm and 160mm artillery and six-barreled rocket launchers.

At the tail of the parade was what was labeled as a reconstruction of parts of the U.S. rocket fired from Cape Canaveral last Nov. 30 and destroyed because of a malfunction. The display included a 30-foot detented section with U.S. Air Force markings.

At a reception in Moscow on the Cuban anniversary Soviet Premier Khrushchev picked up the Cuban charge that the United States was planning an invasion by Jan. 18 to wipe out alleged Soviet rocket bases being constructed in Cuba.

LET US PLAY

THE WORLD of a nun, in the popular impression, is one of solitude and serenity, with most of her time spent in prayer. On Staten Island, near Manhattan, residents are accustomed to see a different picture. Here, at the Handmaids of Mary Novitiate, inhabitants are seen in such unusual outdoor activities as baseball games, roller skating and even wading. Work and play go along with study and prayer at the Novitiate of Franciscan Handmaids of the Most Pure Heart of Mary, one of three orders of Negro nuns in the United States.

Around Crucifix, they pray and make Way of the Cross.

Near the Novitiate is Camp St. Edward.

Auburn Tigers Sharpen Claws

Drake Nips Canisius to Win Queen City Cage Tourney

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Coach Joel Eaves' Auburn Tigers, a dead-eye bunch that counts it a bad game unless half their shots connect, are sharpened to a peak for the long push toward another Southeastern Conference basketball championship.

The Tigers, who swept to the SEC crown last season by winning their last nine games behind blistering accuracy, ran their two-season streak to 15 Monday night with a 76-50 breeze over Florence State.

It was the 36th straight home triumph and the last warm-up for the Tigers, who get down to the business of defending their conference championship Saturday against Mississippi State. They did it with the "make-each-shot-count" formula that Eaves has preached since he took the Auburn controls. Auburn blended another balanced attack, with Ray Groover and Dave Vaughn each scoring 18 points and Jimmy Fibbe adding 15.

Now 6-0 for the 1960-61 campaign, the 10th-ranked Tigers have back five of the top seven men who led them to a 19-3 season a year ago and led the nation in field goal accuracy with 52.1 per cent and free throw accuracy with 77.2 per cent.

Auburn's sixth triumph of the new season came on a relatively slim night on the college boards. Drake, beaten only by second-ranked Bradley in double overtime in nine starts, won the Queen City Invitation championship 79-77 on Bill Hahn's jump shot with five seconds left. Jim Guydon, voted the tournament's most valuable player, scored 22 points.

Princeton took third place in the tournament, beating Connecticut 88-76 as Pete Campbell scored 26 points.

Dave Debusschere, recovered from a nagging ankle injury, scored 29 points and plucked 26 rebounds as Detroit (8-2) routed Baldwin-Wallace 94-64 for its 23rd straight home victory. Kentucky won its sixth in nine tries from Miami, Ohio, 70-58 as Billy Ray Lickert scored 23 points.

DePaul, still unbeaten, made it eight straight with a 55-50 decision over Western Ontario behind 18 points from little Howie Carl and 14 by M. C. Thompson. Frank Pinchback's 18 points and 19 rebounds led avier (8-3) in a 92-63 rout of Creighton.

Richards Takes Medalist Honors

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Amateur Ted Richards shaved three strokes off par and took medalist honors with a 67 in the qualifying round Monday for the $50,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament.

Richards had nines of 33-34 and wound up with a one-stroke margin over a trio of other players. Ray Botts, Emilio Miarutuz and Ray Hane all posted 68s. The tournament opens Friday. A total of 334 players turned out for the 18-hole qualifying test and 47 won their berths in the first round of the open. They join 107 PGA-exempt stars.

Big Ten Schools Barely Break Even In Tuneup Tilts

By The Associated Press
Big Ten basketball teams barely breaking even in a month of non-conference tuneups, open their championship season Saturday. Defending NCAA and Big Ten champion Ohio State remains strongly favored to repeat for the conference crown after an undefeated march through nine games.

The Buckeyes capped their non-league activity by downing St. Bonaventure 84-82 last week to win the New York holiday crown and remain the No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll.

Iowa, and possibly Purdue have joined Indiana as chief threats to Ohio State's bid for the title. Iowa moved into this role by capturing the West Coast Classic, boosting the Hawkeyes to the No. 7 spot nationally.

In all, Big Ten teams won 44 games and lost 40 against non-league opponents. Purdue has a chance to improve that record in a home game tonight with Creighton. It is the only contest before conference title starts Saturday with this schedule:

Illinois (3-6) at Ohio State (9-0), Indiana (6-3) at Michigan (3-6), Minnesota (2-7) at Iowa (8-1), Wisconsin (3-6) at Michigan State (3-5) and Northwestern (4-4) at Purdue (5-3).

Three OSU Cagers On Top 10 List of Big Ten Scorers

CHICAGO (AP) — Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Don Nelson of Iowa and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State are making the Big Ten all-games scoring race their private affair.

Dischinger leads the talented trio with a 27.1 average by scoring 217 points in eight games. Nelson is second with 239 points in nine games for a 26.5 average and All-America Lucas is third with 22.8 points in nine games for a 25.3 average.

Only two other Big Ten players are averaging better than 20 points a game. Indiana's Walt Bellamy has a 22.3 mark and Michigan's John Tidwell 20.1. Ohio State has three of the top 10 scorers are John Havlicek is ninth with 134 points and a 14.8 average, and Larry Siegfried tenth with 131 for 14.5.

OSU Takes All First In AP Poll

Indiana Drops Out Of Top Ten Listings

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ohio State, the defending national champion, stayed at the top of the weekly Associated Press basketball rating today. What's more the Buckeyes scored the maximum number of points for the third straight week.

Of the 36 votes cast by sports writers and sportscasters across the country who vote in the poll, every one had Ohio State at the top. That gave the Buckeyes 360 points.

The Ohio State sweep was hardly unexpected. Jerry Lucas and Co. won the Holiday Festival in New York last week and in the process dumped St. John's and St. Bonaventure, both of which had been undefeated. That made Ohio State's record 9-0.

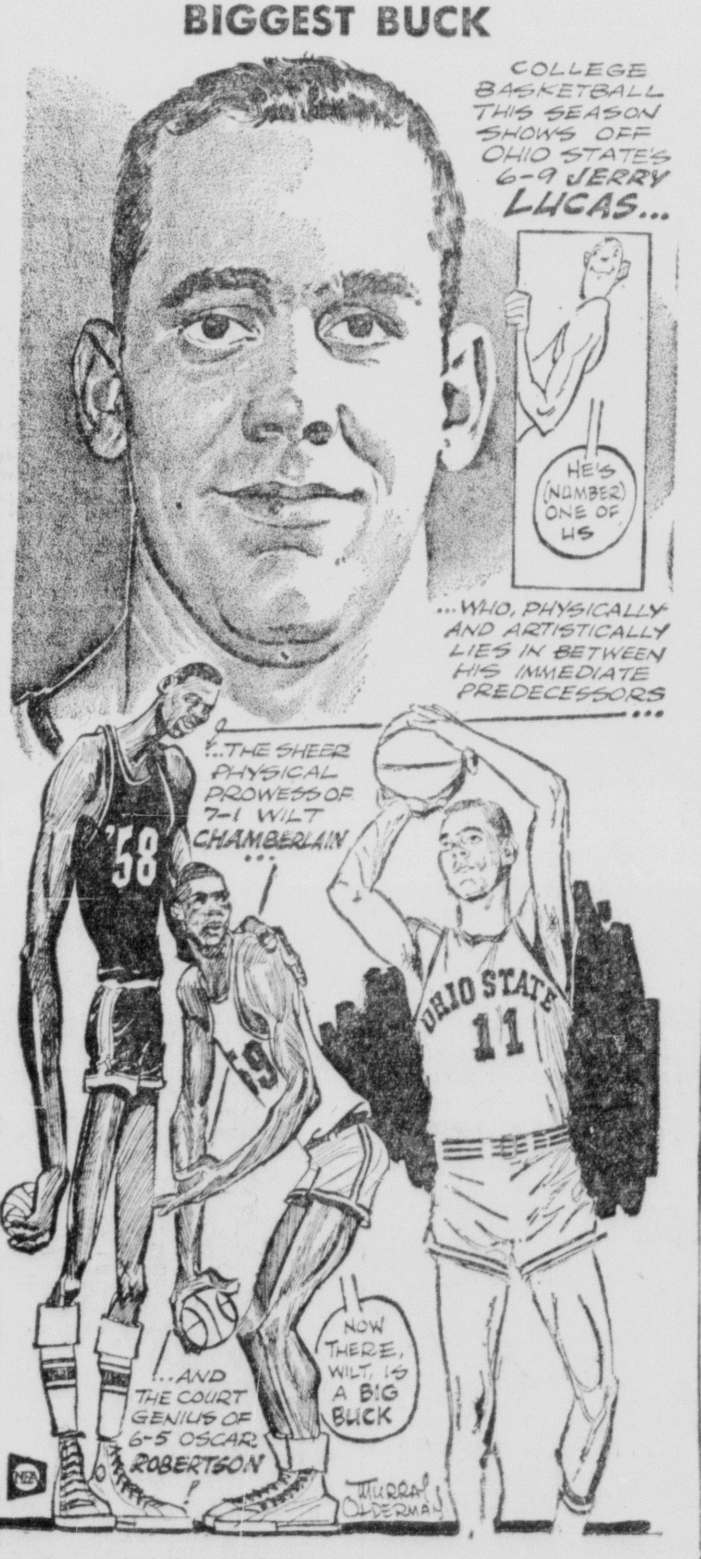

Bradley stayed in second place, but lost 15 points in the process. The Braves have a 10-0 mark and collected 304 points on the usual system of 10 points for first, 9 for second and so on down the line.

St. Bonaventure, which gave a good account of itself in dropping an 84-82 decision to Ohio State in the Holiday Festival final, remained in third place with 264 votes.

Past the big three, though, there was a wholesale shakeup. Three members of the top 10 a week ago—Indiana, St. Louis and North Carolina State—dropped out. Indiana took the most emphatic nose-dive spiraling all the way down from fourth.

The leaders with first place votes in parenthesis:

1. Ohio State (36) 360
2. Bradley 304
3. St. Bonaventure 264
4. Louisville 225
5. St. John's (N.Y.) 165
6. North Carolina 158
7. Iowa 116
8. Duke 70
9. UCLA 65
10. Auburn 51
